EXTRA SCHOLARSHIPS

Laziodisu

International students, as well as Italian students, can apply for scholarships and accommodation at the student welfare service - LazioDisu. Applications are open from mid-May to July. Please check the deadline and the documents required for applications well in advance. You may apply for: scholarships, accommodation, fee reductions, study abroad periods (if already enrolled), and reductions in public transport fees.

The amount of the scholarship depends on several factors including your economic situation. Please read the call for candidates for Sapienza on the LazioDisu website.

Along with general information on your degree programme you will need to provide LazioDisu with information about your residency in Rome and your tax identification code (codice fiscale). The most important information you are required to provide is your ISEE (Indicatore di Situazione Economica Equivalente), which describes your financial situation.

Approximately two months after the application deadline Laziodisu will publish the names of successful candidates. During this two-month period, you can continue to provide any documents that might be useful for your application.
